Acting Moderator

Frederick P. Fitzgerald took the gavel for the discussion and vote on the Andover Companies rezoning issue at Monday's town meeting. Fitzgerald, chairman of the committee to improve town meeting, was appointed by Moderator William Dalton who, because of his association with the law firm representing the Andover Companies, did not participate in the particular article.

Library Gets Land; Parking Lot Allowed

Andover won't be projecting the latest cinema, but the town now owns the Theater Property on Essex Street, an acquisition approved by Monday night's town meeting, at a cost of $161,000.

With 551 voters in attendance at the annual October session, the land acquisition was approved by a vote of 525-9.

Also approved during the slightly over three hour session, was rezoning for the Andover Companies to provide a parking lot for employees at their North Main Street location, a radar speed gun for the police department, and $168,000 for water system improvements.

Rejected was an article which would have resumed the former practice of separate pickup of refuse and garbage on petition of the former garbage collector Stanley Nabydoski.

Neither the library issue or the rezoning item, the two major considerations at the meeting appeared in doubt, as the proponents had sufficient support in the hall to guarantee delivery of the vote of approval.

The theater property, which had been presented to the town in 1968 for $85,000 and rejected through failure to obtain a two-thirds vote, was presented by Chairman Frederick S. Allis of the Memorial Hall Library trustees.

Allis said the opportunity to

To Offer Counsel To School Trio

Counsel will be offered the three school committee members named in a civil rights suit brought by former Assistant Supt. of Schools Edward P. Regan.

The attorney to represent George F. Olesen, John G. Wragg and John F. Lyons in the court case which seeks $150,000 damages for failing to reappoint Regan to the school administrative post, will not be Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien.

Only Olesen remains as a member of the school committee, Lyons and Wragg having resigned. Regan charges in the suit that his civil rights were violated in that he was not afforded reasons or a public hearing on the failure of the three members to vote his reappointment. Regan says in the suit that he had been unable to obtain employment and also that actions preparatory to the actual vote were in violation of open meeting laws.

It is believed now that the selectmen will offer to the trio the name of an alternate attorney to either accept or reject.

Rejection would mean the trio would have to rely on personal counsel for defense.

Lyons resignation followed the acceptance by the majority of the school committee of Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien as special school committee counsel. Olesen had also objected, offered resignation then changed his mind.

It is O'Brien's association in law practice with Town Counsel Alfred L. Daniels which has been the objection of Olesen and Lyons and presumably Wragg.

With such stated objections,

In Support Of Gun Control

State Representative Gerald Cohen lends his support to the petition to put the hand gun control issue on the ballot. Andover League of Women Voters President Sue Tucker and Alix Driscoll, who is organizing the petition drive, look on. The Andover League, with other civic groups are circulating the petitions for control which is favored by the local league following study.

Colonial Muster

One of the East's largest and most popular annual recreations of an authentic 18th century muster -- The Thunderbridge Colonial Muster -- will take place this Sunday (October 12th) at the Foss Farm on Route 225 in Carlisle.

Spread out across the fields and farmland will be colonial garbed men and women tending "living history" displays, engaged in various forms of 18th century crafts making, and participating in colonial weapons competition.

The muster is open to the public from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with ample parking adjacent to the muster area on Route 225 near the Bedford-Carlisle town lines.

Pumpkin Artistry

Craig Knight, Steve Fortuna and Michelle Barron, do a little artistry on a pumpkin during the Andover Village Improvement Society Harvest Days picnic last weekend. This coming weekend is expected to be an excellent opportunity for foliage viewing and the AVIS and Conservation Commission areas in the community offer excellent opportunities for taking in the New England scenery.

Enjoy Fall Color At Home

By 'Easy' Walker

In the coming week Massachusetts trees will be at their peak of color. It is unnecessary to waste precious time and gasoline on foliage trips when Andover's hillsides of maple, ash and evergreens will present a spectacular palette of red, gold and deepest green.

A few of the many excellent vantage points are offered here with the hope that readers will walk or ride to at least one this weekend.

Holt Hill or Charles W. Ward Reservation (owned by the Trustees of Reservations). Take Salem Street to Prospect Hill Road. Free parking at lot on right opp. 62 Prospect Hill road. Proceed up the road about 100 yards and take the "Fire Lane" on your left. Follow lane to water tower, bearing right and heading toward fire tower atop hill. Holt Hill, at 420 feet is the highest elevation in Essex County. From its summit one can see all the way to Boston and the Blue Hills rising in the distance. To the West, Mt. Monadnock rises above its plain some 60 miles away.

Pause in front of the fire tower to notice the compass-like arrangement known as the "Solstice Stones," so called because at spring and fall equinox the sun rises and sets directly over the East and West stones. At winter solstice (Dec.) the sun rises over the SE stone and sets over the SW slab. Stones at NE and NW indicate rising and setting of the sun at Summer Solstice (June). These slabs, brought from many places were set here by Mrs. Charles Ward, donor of the land, early in this century. Perhaps the most interesting historically is the North slab, a gift from the Butterfield Farm, corner of Jenkins Road and Salem Street and an important stop on the "Underground Railroad." This stone was the front doorstep of one old slave who, weary from the run for freedom, decided to live out his days on that farm.

Going into the next meadow, you will have an excellent view of Andover and the Boston skyline. A grill and trash barrel are provided for picnickers and the reservation is open to the public until sundown. Returning to the car, one can retrace his steps or cross the open meadow and go down Prospect Hill Road.

The Past, Present And Future

A child and her dog gaze curiously at two busloads of history seekers Sunday afternoon, while they in turn admire the Dascomb House (circa 1711), out of sight to the left. The tours sponsored by the Andover Bicentennial Commission, will also be held for the next three Sundays. More pictures and story begin on page 22.

Andover Bands In Parade

On Saturday morning Oct. 18, the Greater Lawrence area will be represented in Stoneham's great Bicentennial and Town 250th Anniversary Parade.

The colorful Andover High School and Clan MacPherson Bands will step proudly off in the first and second divisions at 10:30 a.m.

Will Eldridge, who helped many Lawrence area WW II veterans and led the USAR march unit in the 1962 Lawrence 50th Anniversary For God and Country Parade, advises that there are 45 float and special unit pieces with 37 march units including 17 bands. Lexington Minutemen and the 27th Lancers, National Championship Band, are in the line of march.

The Town of Stoneham is honored by the participation of these fine Greater Lawrence bands and welcomes all to this celebration of the "200th Of Our Great Country and 250th of Their Olde Shoe Town."

Chamber Dinner Wednesday

Paul J. Gmyrek, chairman of the Andover Center Merchants reports there are still reservations left for the mid-year workshop to be held at Valle's Steak House on Wednesday, Oct. 15.

Besides the planning board's discussion on the results of the survey on the Central Business District, there is a possibility that Mayor Lance Barrett and Mrs. Barrett from Andover, England will attend to view Andover's businessmen and town government in a cooperative mood of planning together for the future development of the community.

The second portion of the program will place special emphasis on the many fall and Christmas programs scheduled by the Center Merchants.

At Marymount

Miss Genevieve Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Green of Andover, Mass. has been accepted as a freshman at Marymount College, Tarrytown, N.Y. this fall.

She is a graduate of Our Lady of Nazareth, Wakefield.

Special Bicentennial Concert At Academy

Subscribe to the TOWNSMAN

Joseph Schwartz

Joseph Schwartz, concert pianist, will present a special bicentennial recital in George Washington Hall, at Phillips Academy on Saturday, Nov. 1 at 7 p.m.

His program will include: Fantasia in C Minor K475 and Sonata in C Minor K457 by Mozart; Piano Variations by Aaron Copland; L'Union by Louis M. Gottschalk; and the complete Op. 10 Etudes by Frederic Chopin.

Mr. Schwartz began his studies at the age of five in New York City where he was born. He quickly exhibited all the signs of precocity and played his first recital at the age of eight. He continued his studies in Los Angeles with Dr. Gerhard Albersheim and then back in New York at the Juilliard School of Music where he was a scholarship student of Rosina Lhevinne and Irwin Freundlich. Upon completing his studies and receiving the Bachelor's and Master's degrees in piano, he gave his New York debut at Town Hall as the winner of the Walter W. Naumburg award. Harold C. Schonberg hailed him as an extremely talented pianist able to fuse a slam-bang technique with musicianship. Since then Mr. Schwartz has played all over the United States, Canada, South America and Europe to enthusiastic audiences and critics.

In addition to a busy concert schedule, Mr. Schwartz also has a busy career as a teacher at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music where he is Professor of Piano. He resides at Oberlin, Ohio with his wife, who is a singer, and three children. The concert is open to the public.

Friends Of Library Begin Membership Drive

The Friends of Memorial Hall Library began its annual membership drive this week. The aim of the group is to provide volunteer help for the library and to purchase items which are useful to the library in carrying out its many functions but which are not financially accessible within its budget.

The Friends arrange programs appealing to a variety of age groups such as the annual Family Christmas Party and the used book sale which is held in the spring.

Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman and Mrs. Albert Cullen are the membership chairmen and look forward to acquiring new Friends. Anyone interested in joining may pick up a membership card at the library.

Leading the Friends this year are Mrs. Arthur Muldoon, president; Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman, vice president; Mrs. Hale Sturges, recording secretary;

Mrs. Carmine DiAdamo, corresponding secretary; and Robert Rockwell, treasurer. Board members include Mrs. Albert Cullen, Mrs. Robert Stier, Jr., Mrs. Jerry O'Donoghue, Mrs. Michael Fine, Mrs. John Appleton, Mrs. Thayer Warshaw, Mrs. Vincent Morton, Jr., Mrs. Robert Cipro, Mrs. Larry Reeder, Mrs. Chester Reynolds, Mrs. John Perowski, Mrs. Harry McCormick, John Kimball, Mrs. Matthew Cushing and Donald Sagaser.

Center Needs Volunteers

The Lawrence General Hospital Division of Rehabilitation Services has a total staff of about 90 people covering a very broad range of skills, responsibilities and functions.

Psychologists, social workers, rehabilitation counselors, speech pathologists, an audiologist, alcoholism counselors, truck drivers, bookkeepers, secretaries, work supervisors, nurses, medical consultants, instructors in industrial skills, teachers of pre-school children and others, are included in the service.

The Center services approximately 3,000 individuals and families a year. For the most part, the center serves individuals with physical, mental and socio-economic disabilities.

Volunteers implement the program. The range of their services is as broad as the service. At present there is need for volunteers in many areas. Some of these are: tutors, recreational aides, arts and crafts instructor, high school equivalency teacher, drivers education instructor and work shop supervisors. For further information, contact: Judy Kaplan, Volunteer Coordinator, Tuesday or Thursday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 685-2151.

Library To Open Sundays

The Stevens Memorial Library in North Andover will be experimenting with Sunday openings this year, beginning Oct. 19. Sunday openings will continue until the beginning of May, 1976. Hours will be: 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays, and service will be provided both in the Children's Room and the Adult areas of the library.

In trying this new service, trustees and staff are following an example set by many libraries, not only in Massachusetts, but nationwide. Sunday openings of libraries have, in almost all cases, proven to be a successful and necessary service to the public.

The Stevens Library will be open on Sundays with no increase in funding. The library will be staffed by full time personnel. Regular weekday hours: 9 - 9, Monday through Friday, and 9 - 5 Saturdays, will continue.

Enter Andover Bank's Dress-A-Doll Contest.

Have fun. And help a children's charity at the same time. Just come into any of our offices and ask for one of the 16 inch dolls we have waiting for you. They're free.

Take it home and knit, crochet or sew the prettiest, most imaginative costume you can for your doll.

Bring the dolls in by November 15. They'll be displayed and judged by an impartial panel as to the best dressed in four categories: knit and crochet, fancy, Bicentennial, and a special class for children under 15.

The winners in each category will receive cash prizes. Then, the dolls will be sold at auction. All the money from the auction will go to children's charities to help make Christmas merrier for some needy youngsters.

So come into Andover Bank today and pick up one of the 16 inch dolls. You'll be helping others while you have some fun. And your holiday season will be so much more joyful.

Competition rules: 1. Pick up doll at any office of the Andover Bank. 2. Register for competition. 3. Design and make an outfit for doll in one of four categories: • Bicentennial (Costumes reflecting fashions of the Revolutionary era) • Fancy Dress (Party or evening wear) •

Knit or crochet (Any costume made by knitting or crocheting) • Special Class (For children under 15. Doll to be dressed in any costume of their choice).

4. Return doll to Bank by November 15. 5. Four cash prizes will be awarded in each of our offices for the winning doll in each category. 6. There will be a grand prize for the doll judged best in the entire group at each of our offices. After the dolls have been on exhibit and judged in the Andover Bank offices, they will be sold at auction on December 6th. Money from the auction will be given to various children's charities.

Honors Award For History

Erna Lasman of 24 Smithshire Estates, Andover, was recently presented the honors award for history by University College at Northeastern University. Ms. Lasman received the award from Harold Naidus, associate dean and director of the liberal arts program at University College. The award is presented to a University College student who has obtained outstanding recognition in the history honors program. Ms. Lasman received the bachelor of arts degree with honor at Northeastern's recent commencement.

Appointed To Faculty At Merrimack College

Four local residents are among six professors and three staff members newly named to Merrimack College for the 1975-76 academic year, and officially introduced at the opening meeting of the Faculty Senate.

Donald A. Nelson and Mary Lee Underhill, both of Andover, were named assistant professors of accounting and management respectively, while Ms. Brenda Bell and Bert Hammel of North Andover were named admissions counselor and resident director - Austin Centre.

Prof. Nelson holds a B.B.A. in accounting and an M.S.B.A. in management from the University of Massachusetts, and is a certified public accountant. Prof. Underhill received both her B.S. in business administration, with a major in business analysis and statistics, and her M.B.A. in management from Boston University.

Ms. Bell received her B.A. in English from Merrimack College this year, and Hammel received a B.S. in accounting from Bentley College in 1973.

Also newly appointed are Dr. Martyn L. Apley of Bradford and Dr. Paul F. Cotter of Boston, both assistant professors of biology; Prof. Arthur J. Ledoux of Melrose, instructor in philosophy; Prof. Franklin P. Tarney of Bradford, instructor in sociology, and Ms. Candace Zacharian of Methuen, director of women's physical education.

With the appointment of the six new professors, Merrimack now has a faculty of 117 serving 1900 full time students in the areas of the humanities, social sciences, business administration, science and engineering. In addition, there are 104 students in the Continuing Education Division taking courses during the daytime hours, as well as 64 business administration students participating in off-campus work assignments under Merrimack's Cooperative degree program.

"Our student enrollment has stabilized and we have experienced a slight increase in our student population," said the Rev. John A. Coughlan, O.S.A., Merrimack's executive vice-president. "Even in these difficult economic times for college students and their families, 94 per cent of our upperclassmen have returned to campus this semester. The addition of 497 freshmen and 115 transfer students along with the decrease in student attrition is an encouraging and hopeful sign for an even more vigorous Merrimack College."

English Mayor Due For Visit

The Mayor of Andover, England, is due to see how his American namesake community operates during a three day visit and tour here next week.

Mayor Lance Barrett, his wife and three children, will be given tours of the governmental operations, schools and industry, along with meeting with business leaders at luncheons and dinners, during his visit which begins Wednesday morning.

Mayor Barrett is due to be received at town hall at 9 a.m. on Wednesday at which time he will be presented with informational material about the town and its historical significance by Norma Gammon of the Bicentennial Commission.

He will then be given a tour of town hall and some of the municipal facilities.

In the afternoon he will meet with host families, who have been selected by West Junior High Principal William E. Hart. The Mayor's three youngsters, Alastair, 11 and twins, Stuart and Claire, eight, will meet the children with whom they will be attending Andover schools on Thursday and Friday.

Wednesday evening, Mayor and Mrs. Barrett will attend the dinner meeting of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants group at Valle's Steak House.

Thursday morning will begin with a visit to the Andover fire station where Mayor Barrett will present the local department with greetings from their English counterparts. Following a tour of the safety center, the Mayor will make a personal visit to the town offices and the new water filtration plant.

He will attend the Lawrence Rotary luncheon Thursday noon and then spend the remainder of the afternoon and early evening at Phillips Academy.

While the Mayor is at Rotary, Mrs. Barrett will be guest at luncheon of the Andover League of Women Voters.

On Friday, Stephen Griffin, president of Gillette International, will host the Mayor at the Lowell Junction plant of the firm, describing the sister plant to Andover, England's Gillette operations.

There will be a news conference in the afternoon and a dinner with the selectmen Friday evening prior to the Mayoral party departing for New Hampshire where they have been vacationing.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - October, 1900

Superintendent of Streets Lovejoy is requesting residents not rake leaves from their lawns to the streets, as the department has enough to attend to.

The Andover line of the Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill electric railway, is now favored with some good looking cars of the vestibuled end variety. They are painted deep red and make a handsome appearance on the street.

Postmaster Bliss announces that the last mail to Boston, New York and south and west, now leaves at 6:30 p.m. instead of 8 o'clock as during the summer. A small amount of mail will still be accepted up to 7 p.m. for processing for the early dispatch next morning.

Miss Alice M. Bell, daughter of John Bell, left this week on the liner "New England" for Liverpool.

The "No school" signal sounded for all grades Tuesday morning, but as no one heard it in Frye and Abbot Villages, classes were held as usual.

ACT Group To Present The Crucible

The Andover Community Theatre will hold its October meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 in the Faculty Dining Room at West Junior High.

Under discussion at this meeting will be "The Crucible" which is currently in rehearsal. There are still many phases of this production that have openings for volunteers. Anyone interested in backstage work is invited to come and get involved. A prop list will be presented and anyone willing to lend those items, or who knows where they can be obtained will be greatly appreciated.

"The Crucible" is the story of the Salem Witch trials of 1692. Written by Arthur Miller, it is the terrifying account of how people driven by hysteria and greed will turn on their fellow man and not be satisfied until they either falsely confess or are hanged.

Produced by ACT in cooperation with the ABC Program of Andover, "The Crucible" is of valid historical interest in this Bicentennial Year.

50 Years Ago - October, 1925

Rev. Dr. E. Victor Bigelow, pastor of South Church has been appointed to the Board of Visitors of Andover Theological Seminary to succeed Dr. Campbell of the Highland Church in Roxbury.

Crossed wires in the organ at the Colonial Theater on Essex street caused considerable smoke and the fire department responded to care for the matter. When the smoke was cleared the customers returned to witness the completion of the program.

Rev. Alfred C. Church will be installed as the new pastor of Free Christian Church next Sunday.

Fire Chief Charles F. Emerson has announced plans for improvements at the fire station. The parlor will be given a new hardwood floor and some new rugs purchased. The victrola and radio which have given much enjoyment to the members of the department will be retained.

At a meeting of the Board of Public Works this week, it was voted to ask the state highway commission for use of a truck and a plow for the coming winter.

Plans for a new two-story elementary school of 18 classrooms and a six room elementary building for the west section of town were revealed this week by the school building committee. Estimated cost of the buildings is $1,200,000.

The Veterans Housing Project off Morton Street, was occupied this past week with about 30 of the 56 families due to move into the complex.

Two teachers were appointed by the school committee this week. Robert B. McIntyre of Waltham was named a high school mathematics teacher at an annual salary of $2,500 and Beverly Bloomberg of Lowell, elementary teacher at $2,300.

The selectmen this week asked the finance committee to transfer $400 from the reserve fund to provide for needed repairs to the town scales.

Latest readings at Haggetts Pond reveal the level of the main reservoir is now 65 inches below normal.

10 Years Ago - October, 1965

Memorial Hall library will close for the next week in order to allow the moving of some books to upper floors and permit use of the building during construction of the new wing.

Selectmen William Stewart, Roger W. Collins and Paul W. Cronin, attended the 37th annual meeting of the Massachusetts Selectmen's Association where they accepted first prize for the annual town report.

Jason Wright of Carisbrooke Street, has been appointed employee - service manager of Raytheon Andover.

Capt. Robert A. Watters, son of Selectman and Mrs. Robert W. Watters was the recipient of the Army Commendation Medal while assigned to Fort Sill, Okla.

Town Counsel Frederic S. O'Brien rules that final plans for the high school need not be approved by the school committee, prior to being submitted to the state School Building Assistance Commission.

Extended Service Offered By Phone Co.

The telephone company will be offering Andover residents a new, optional, service, which will begin the first week in November.

Known as Bay State Service, the system allows Andover residents 120 minutes per month of toll free calling in Massachusetts for $16.25. In addition, for overtime beyond the 120 minutes, the service provides a charge of 30 cents for each additional six minutes, representing a substantial saving.

Andover is the first community in this area to initiate such a service. The telephone company is offering the program following requests made of the utility by Andover Representative Gerald Cohen.

Cohen said that he had received requests seeking the phone company to provide Andover with a metropolitan rate, in other words, placing the town in a district which would permit toll-free calling to Boston area communities.

Larry Gibson, manager of the local exchange for residential customers, reports that including Andover in the metropolitan district cannot be accomplished. And, while Andover residents could be placed in a North Reading exchange, thus allowing the toll free system to the Boston area, the installation and charge is costly.

The Bay State Service provides the most economical system for the Andover exchange.

It has been well received in other parts of the state, Gibson reported.

Such a system is beneficial to persons having relatives or students in other parts of the state who communicate frequently. It is also beneficial to business and professional people, who must contact other areas of the Commonwealth on a regular basis.

Gibson said he envisions the service as being very helpful to people who must make considerable use of the telephone in keeping in contact with other areas of the state.

There are some sections of the state which are not served by the New England Telephone and Telegraph, a minimal amount of subscribers involved, who would not be able to be included in such service, the local manager pointed out.

There is a one time charge of $7.25 for installation of the service from the home or business.

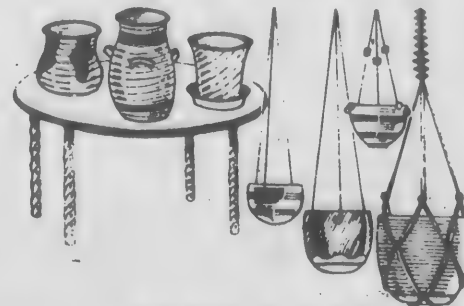

Full details are explained in a letter being sent to Andover customers by the telephone company.

Vikes, Colts Prep For Showdown

By Rick Harrison

The Indian Ridge Vikings and Central Colts prepped for their upcoming first-place showdown by chalking up their second straight victories last Sunday, highlighting tripleheader action in the Andover Junior Football League at the East Junior High gridiron.

The co-leading Vikings also remained unscored upon, edging the stubborn Shawsheen Patriots 6-0, while the Colts had to rally from a one-point halftime deficit to nip the Ballardvale Browns, 12-7.

In the third AJFL game, the Bancroft Dolphins squared their record and knocked the West Andover Giants from a share of the top spot with a convincing 18-0 romp.

The Vikings and Colts are scheduled to meet in this Sunday's nightcap, at approximately 2:45 p.m., and barring a tie the winner of the game stands a good shot at the 1975 league championship.

Vikings-Patriots

The only score of the game was registered by fullback Phil Kirkland, who bolted three yards to paydirt midway through the second quarter.

A fine 22-yard pass completion from A-team quarterback Ted Kelley to halfback Scott Hubbell set up the TD, by bringing the ball to the Pats' three yard line.

Mike Reilly's bid for the extra point was stacked up short.

Among the offensive standouts for the Indian Ridge crew was halfback Barry Goodman. Sparking the Vikes' defense to its second consecutive shutout were tackles Rich Saba and Chris Rizzo.

Coach Bill Walsh's Patriots, still searching for their first touchdown, were led on offense by A-team halfback Steve Stabile and B-team running back Tim Grams.

On defense the Shawsheen wall was bulwarked by middle guard Mike Burke and inside linebacker Pete Walsh of the B-team.

Colts 12, Browns 7

The Colts appeared to have run their offense through a Xerox machine during the week, as the same two players scored on almost the identical plays at the same time as they did on opening day.

Dave Milne provided the Central eleven with a quick 6-0 lead in the first quarter, slanting 20 yards off tackle for his second TD of the campaign. Milne's rush for the conversion failed.

The Browns battled right back in the second period, as halfback Joe Benson sprinted 23 yards off tackle to knot the game at 6-6.

Veteran back Mike Sherman stepped over for the extra point, and the rivals retired at halftime with the Ballardvale squad atop a 7-6 lead.

B-team back Steve Green, who had an insurance score last week, won the game this time for the Colts when he scampered 50 yards for the clinching TD in the third quarter. Green's PAT rush was halted, keeping the score at 12-7 where it stayed throughout the 16-play fourth frame.

A-team halfback Jerry Doyle joined Milne and Green as the offensive sparkplugs for the winners, while on defense plaudits went to middle guard Richie Aumais and outside linebacker Kevin Joiner.

Jim DePiano and Mike Sherman ran consistently well for the Browns, and on defense the stoppers included middle guard Mike Brown and tackle Ralph Hancock.

Dolphins 18, Giants 0

The Dolphins, who have suffered through a series of lean years since joining the AJFL as an "expansion" team, rang up single TDs in the first, second and fourth quarters enroute to the big triumph over the stunned Giants.

John Merola scored what proved to be all the Bancroft squad needed in the opening period, scooting 40 yards off tackle to the enemy endzone. Jon Pelletier's conversion try failed.

Jerry Weaver made it 12-0 at intermission, bolting 10 yards to paydirt straight up the middle. Matt Kiley's bid for the PAT was halted.

After the B-units struggled through a scoreless third canto, Tom Fabiani intercepted a pass at the West Andover 15 yard line and weaved his way into the endzone for the final tally.

Bob Slayton was Johnny-on-the-spot to break up the conversion pass for the Giants.

Top performers offensively for the Dolphins were halfback Ed Sullivan and John Merola, while the shutout defense was led by tackle Ted McDonald and linebacker Wayne Merola.

Spearheading the Giants' marches was quarterback Jeff Sarkisian, and the defensive leaders were tackle John Smith and linebacker Glen Johnson.

Schedule

The Patriots and Giants kick things off this Sunday at 12 noon, followed by the Browns-Dolphins at 1:15 p.m. and the Colts-Vikings.

Hockey Group Schedules Tryouts, Registration

The Andover Hockey Association is preparing to begin another season, with tryouts and registrations sessions scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 18 at the Sumner Smith Rink, Phillips Academy.

To be eligible to participate in the program, boys must be a resident of Andover and have been born on or after Jan. 1, 1961 and before Jan. 1, 1969.

Each participant will furnish his own equipment. The Andover Hockey Association will furnish goalie's protective equipment. No participant will be allowed on the ice without a helmet or mouthguard.

Applications for boys who have previously participated in the program will be mailed and should be completed by mail (Box 167, Andover) prior to Oct. 18. Boys new to the program may register by mail prior to Oct. 18, or in person at a registration day to be held on Saturday, Oct. 18, from 9 - 11 a.m. at the Sumner Smith Hockey Rink at Phillips Academy, Andover. Late registrations will be accepted only as vacancies exist. The Association reserves the right to refuse registration after Oct. 18.

The participation fees will be as follows: Boys aged 7-12 (as of Jan. 1, 1976): Each boy will pay a participation fee of $35 at the time of registration. This fee will be used for the purchase of team jerseys, hockey injury insurance, equipment and ice fees. Participants will be grouped by age and ability. All boys will be notified by mail of their assigned group following registration. Assignments to all groups may be adjusted after the first few sessions. Boys selected for the PeeWee "A" or the PeeWee "B" teams will pay an additional fee of $15 to help defray the costs of uniforms and additional ice time. This additional fee is payable after notification of assignment to teams.

Boys aged 13 and 14 (as of Jan. 1, 1976) - Bantam Teams: Boys born in 1961 or 1962 (age 13 and 14) are classified as Bantams. Due to the annual increase in the number of applicants to the program, it has become necessary to limit the number of participants in the Bantam classification. Two Bantam teams of top ability will be retained. Boys in this classification wishing to tryout for these teams will pay a registration fee of $15 at the time of registration to be used for insurance and ice fees. Prior to Nov. 4, following tryout sessions, boys in this classification will be notified of their status. Boys retained on the Bantam "A" or Bantam "B" teams will pay a participation fee of $35 following notification.

The first sessions of the Andover Hockey Association program will be held according to the following schedule:

Bantams: Age 14 - Saturday, Oct. 25 at Merrimack College, 10:30 a.m.

Age 13 - Saturday, Oct. 25 at Merrimack College, 9:30 a.m.

Warriors Prep For Tewksbury

Ah, Were You Going Somewhere?

Andover High's Golden Warriors carry a 30 game win streak into Saturday afternoon's clash with undefeated Tewksbury in what could shape up as a battle of quarterbacks.

The Warriors handled Methuen with ease last Saturday scoring three times in the first four minutes of play to romp to a 43-6 victory over the winless Rangers.

This Saturday, one of two teams with a shot at the Merrimack Valley Conference Crown comes into Andover attempting to wrest the crown from the Warriors.

Tewksbury has a strong club led by Dave Mackey and looms as a threat to the Warriors' effort at retaining the conference title for a fourth consecutive year.

The visitors, like Andover, are undefeated in their first three games.

Last Saturday, Quarterback

Methuen's Dave Frasca had thoughts of a first down in mind last Saturday and had only about a foot or two to go, but Andover's John Drivas in white, had other ideas. The result -- Andover took over the ball, thus ending a Ranger drive.

Bill Alexander started the scoring off with a 48 yard run and moments later was in for another touchdown on a 13 yard gallop.

Later in the opening quarter he connected with Mark Farnham for the third score of the game and later in the first half with standout Glenn Verrette for another TD.

Backup Quarterback Mike McCormick booted three of four points after to put the Warriors ahead 27-0 by halftime.

Lou Pizarro and McCormick added touchdowns in the third period and a fourth-quarter safety brought Andover's final point production to 43 for the afternoon.

A sustained drive by Methuen in the opening quarter resulted in Glen Gallant going over from the one yard line for Methuen's only score, and first of the season.

Going into Saturday's game against Tewksbury, Andover has scored 107 points while giving up 13.

Methuen High Head Coach Bob Rosemarino praised the Warriors for having a well balanced club and expertise at execution of plays.

The Ranger coach also praised the stingy defense displayed by the Warriors.

Andover High Head Coach Dick Collins, commenting on the Rangers said the team displayed a good effort in attempting to stop the offense with ball control, but just didn't have the horses to sustain the effort.

As for this Saturday, Collins said it should be a tough game for his club against a big, veteran power team.

The key to the game, in Collins mind, is how well Tewksbury is able to control the ball.

Navy Radioman Third Class John T. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Wright of 81 Argilla Road, has returned to San Diego, aboard the frigate USS Lang after completing a seven-month Western Pacific deployment. He and his shipmates participated in various training exercises with other units of the U. S. Seventh Fleet. They also visited Subic Bay, Republic of Philippines; Guam, Hong Kong, Singapore and Australia.

Ed Whitton, Mike Chamberlain and Eric Darby, the track is fast and they encourage all racers to get in as many practice runs as possible before the day of the big race on Oct. 18. In addition to individual entries one of the attractive features of the race is that a group of youngsters may form a racing team, building one car in a cooperative effort with each child racing the car for time individually. Another feature is the "Four in a car" limit which allows a family to enter as a racing team. In any event, the time to get your car built and rolling is running short so get your brain in gear, your hammer in motion and your car on the track now. Additional information and registration forms are available at all school offices and at the Recreation / Community Schools Department office.

Dr. William H. Caverly and Pamela Caverly examine some craft work.

Art In The Park Months Of Work Day Of Success

Taking place in the splendor of last Saturday's perfect October weather, the first annual Andover Art in the Park was off to an auspicious start. One hundred and thirty-five artists from four states descended on Andover's Central Park from 8:30 a.m. to show opening at 10 o'clock on Oct. 4 and were treated to Andover-style hospitality by a corps of volunteer hostesses.

The show represents eight months of work by a committee headed by Recreation / Community Schools Director Gary Ralph and last year's Andovers Artist Guild President Marilyn Stella. The two organizations sponsored the event. From indications by participating artists and viewers (and buyers) alike, Saturday's success is a giant step toward establishing "Andover Art in the Park" as a major fall show in Northeastern New England.

Andover Center Merchants Association provided the prize money awarded to the three Best of Show winners. Association representatives Charles Heseltine and Paul Gymrick presented $150 to first prize winner Mary A. Wilkas from Ashmont for a large oil abstraction; $75 to Jean Harris of Damariscotta, Maine for her watercolor; and $50 to Donna A. Pinto, Reading, for a charcoal sketch. Ten artists received honorable mention. They are: M.T. Campbell, Lawrence; Roy Churchillo, Lowell; Guy Dampier, Atkinson, N.H.; Jack Giordano, Wilmington; Jeannie Hesser, Wayne, Pa.; Richard Hilker, Pelham, N.H.; David Hunter, Andover; Janvier Miller, Andover; Jean Muller, Reading; Jan Von Lethkemann, Swampscott.

Judges for the show were Tewksbury sculptor, Mico Kaufman, George Gabin, Rockport teacher and painter and Eagle Tribune Photo Editor Starr Ockenga.

Andover ABC (A Better Chance) provided food throughout the day and Andover Company of Militia gave a demonstration of 18th Century Drills and music at 2 p.m.

The profit from this, and future shows, will be used to provide scholarships to Andover High School Seniors planning to study art.

Bowling At YMCA

The Fall Term bowling program of the Andover-North Andover YMCA, now underway, includes several Candlepin Bowling offerings. Most have existing openings which may be filled by registering at the new YMCA, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. Full Privilege YMCA membership is not required.

A women's morning league will meet on Thursdays at 9 a.m.; a league for boys and girls in grades 5 and 6 is scheduled on Mondays, 3:45, and one for grades 7-9 on Thursdays at 2:45. Individuals may sign up and will be assigned to teams for competition. All are welcome without regard of ability, and all programs are conducted at the Andover Lanes.

Art In the Park was limited to the fine arts (paintings, graphics, sculpture), but serious consideration is being given to hosting a quality Craft Festival in the Spring. Persons interested in helping with the Craft Festival may contact the Recreation / Community Schools Department.

To Show Film On Einstein

The Andover School Department's Media Services in cooperation with the Recreation / Community Schools Department will present a film called Albert Einstein: The Education of a Genius. There will be no admission charged for the film which will be shown on Wednesday, Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. in the West Elementary auditorium.

This 44-minute color film is narrated by Peter Ustinov and is described by the National Science Teachers' Association as "a film that should be seen by students of sciences and by students from the humanities because the film effectively presents the scientific and humanistic aspects of this great man." Photographed in Switzerland, Germany and the United States, the film emphasizes Einstein's early years and, using his own words makes vivid the role of visual thinking as opposed to verbal thought in Einstein's early years and, using his own words makes vivid the role of visual thinking as opposed to verbal thought in Einstein's development.

The film was produced, written and directed by Harold Mantell.

UNICEF Participants Sought

Goblins and ghosts are needed in Andover - to help celebrate National UNICEF day, Oct. 31. The Greater Boston Committee for UNICEF invites children's organizations to join in sharing their concern and friendship for their neighbors around the world by collecting coins for UNICEF at Halloween.

1975 marks the 25th anniversary of Trick or Treating for UNICEF in the United States. Oct. 31 has been proclaimed National UNICEF Day by Presidential Proclamation.

Leaders of scouting groups, Sunday Schools, and classroom teachers are requested to join in celebrating this 25th anniversary by sponsoring UNICEF collections.

South Church, Andover, serves as a distribution center for UNICEF collection boxes, informational flyers and posters to be used by interested groups. The distribution center committee, chaired by Mrs. Mary Anderson, will be assembling kits for groups to use. The committee asks that requests for UNICEF material be given to them by Oct. 15. Requests for material can be made by calling the South Church office, weekdays between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Materials can be picked up at South Church after Oct. 15.

The Unitarian - Universalist Church of Andover will continue its tradition of celebrating UNICEF Day with a special UNICEF church service and carnival on Sunday, Nov. 2. The carnival begins at 11:30 a.m. and features games, pony rides, and a Spook House.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Free Flu shots are going to be available to Andover residents Oct. 22 at East Junior High School between 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. No appointments are required, but those who have already had flu shots this year or who are allergic to such things as chicken feathers are warned against having the shots.

A real social whirl is planned for Andover's seniors in the next several weeks. Nov. 4 marks the date for a party to honor Mr. Senior Citizen of the Merrimack Valley - Henry Fredette. It will be held at the Vocational High School at 4 p.m. and will include a roast beef dinner. Tickets are available at The Haven for $1 each. Transportation from The Haven to the Voke School will also be available. Mr. Fredette has been in the forefront of the struggles to achieve a better life style for all senior citizens in the Merrimack Valley area and is met on October 1 and decided to hold meetings twice a month on the first and third Wednesdays at 9:30 a.m. in the Print Room at the library. The members selected two books by Rollo May to start off the group's reading. They will read Man's Search For Himself for discussion at the next meeting on Oct. 15 and Love And Will will be discussed on Oct. 29. Dr. Randolph Becker, minister of the Andover Unitarian Universalist Church will be the discussion leader. Anyone interested in reading these two books and talking about them is welcome to attend.

loved and respected for his tireless efforts.

Sunday, Dec. 7, The Haven is sponsoring a trip to the Chateau de Ville in Saugus for dinner and the presentation of a musical entitled, "French Dressing." Buses will leave The Haven at 10:30 that morning and the total cost of transportation, dinner and theater is $10.50. Make your reservation now at The Haven.

The Andover Council on Aging announces a Christmas party Dec. 11 - a Thursday - at West Junior High.

The new art exhibit is a selection of works in watercolors, pen and ink and Chinese brush style by Barbara Wezniak. Ms. Wezniak's paintings hang in private collections in Mexico and South America as well as in the U. S. She is currently studying at the DeCordova Museum and is a member of the Providence Watercolor Club and the Lexington Arts and Crafts Society.

Great Books

The Great Books group will meet at 7:30 Tuesday Oct. 14 in the Print Room at the library. Childhood and Society by Erikson will be discussed.

Children's Room News by Ruth Hooten

Don't forget Leaf Day Oct. 11 (Saturday) at 10. Just bring in some colorful pressed leaves (put them under a heavy book overnight) and we'll be doing all kinds of things from waxing them to coloring them. We hope to display the finished products in the windows or even to make a mobile. So come in and try out our ideas or some of your own.

The Slot Car Display for October had to be cancelled.

YWCA To Present Program On America

The Greater Lawrence YWCA will present a program "America the Beautiful" in honor of the Bicentennial anniversary of this country. It will be arranged in five parts and will depict the beauty of the various regions in the United States as well as the historical spots in our American heritage. It will be done in verse, film and song with various choral groups performing in the coming months.

The first program will be presented at the YWCA, 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence on Wednesday, Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. New England will be the area depicted and will show both the familiar and unfamiliar beauty places in this region. The First Calvary Baptist Church Cathedral Choir will present choral selections appropriate for the area. Narrator for the evening will be Dr. Nina E. Scarito.

Other regions in later programs will include "The West," "Central and South," "The Rest" which covers Alaska and Hawaii, and the series will end with "Your Home Town."

Refreshments will be served during intermission. The public is invited to attend and enjoy learning more about our beautiful 50 states.

To The Townspeople of Andover:

We wish to thank all of the Townspeople who attended the Town Meeting on Monday night and gave their support to our appeal for an employee parking facility on the land adjoining our home office building in Shawsheen. We are grateful to all of you.

Street parking has been a serious safety hazard for all of us employed at The Andover Companies especially during the winter months. This hazard has been increasing steadily with the growth of traffic through Shawsheen Square.

The new area has already been beautifully landscaped and everything possible will be done to preserve and enhance the appearance of all our Shawsheen properties as in the past.

Sincerely,

Employees of The Andover Companies

Circle Meeting Postponed

Because of the Columbus Day holiday, the October meeting of the Friendly Circle of the Andover Baptist Church will be held on Oct. 20 instead of 13, in the church vestry on Central Street, at 7:45 p.m.

A short business meeting will be held and the balance of the evening will be devoted to working on projects and finalizing committees for the church's 5th annual "Ye Olde Tyme Harvest Fair" which is scheduled for Nov. 8.

The Friendly Circle serves as steering committee for the Fair and Circle member Helen Towne is general chairman, but every member of the church is urged to participate and anyone desiring to work on a project or seeking help with one of their own for the fair is invited to attend the Oct. 20 meeting.

Rev. Kenower To Be Guest Minister

The 10:30 a.m. service at the Unitarian Universalist Church, 244 Lowell St., Andover, will be led by guest minister, John R.

Trumpet, Vocal Concert Set For Baptist Church

A trumpet and vocal concert will be given at the Andover Baptist Church, Essex and Central Streets, by the library, on Thursday, Oct. 16 at 7 p.m.

Bruce Heffner from Lancaster, Pennsylvania will play the trumpet and sing with sophisticated electronic background accompaniment. A mellow trumpet and a smooth, relaxed voice will bring old, favorite hymns to life along with the new, contemporary sound of Christian music.

Bruce began his musical career with the "Eastsiders" touring group and continued as music director of Pinebrook Conference until taking charge of the music for Youth For Christ in Wilmington, Delaware. During his military service, he was a Kenower. A 1961 graduate of Harvard Divinity School, Rev. Kenower has served churches in Rhode Island and Florida, in both preaching and parish development research.

In Rhode Island, he was also involved in his own private program of inner city housing restoration to provide a model of good housing for the urban disadvantaged without government funding. Rev. Kenower will present a creative dialogue service on "The Little Prince."

Kiehl's To Entertain Fellowship

Women of Andover are invited to join the Women's Fellowship of South Church, on Thursday, Oct. 16, at 10 a.m. to hear Dr. and Mrs. Robert Kiehl. Mary Virginia and Robert Kiehl will present a program covering a walking tour through England's lovely Kent farming country; and by comparison, a walk in Morristown National Historical Park.

The Kiehl's illustrate their walks with slides, and will show us ancient rural England and America at their fall loveliest.

Please bring a box lunch. Beverage will be provided. For Babysitting reservations, call Mrs. James Hinkel or Mrs. Wesley Whitney.

Fair Centers On Dolls

Friends and members of Andover's Unitarian Universalist Church invite prospective shoppers to Das Puppenhaus (The Doll House) to be held Saturday, Oct. 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The church, located at 244 Lowell St. (Rt. 133), will be transformed that day for a unique fair centering around dolls, doll houses, stuffed animals, clowns, puppets, doll beds and cradles and other items for children of all ages. Church members, under the direction of Beverly Faust, chairperson, have been hard at work for months on a variety of individual and group projects.

Diane Goldsmith, a member of the House Tour Committee, and Norma Gammon, chairman of the Bicentennial Commission, chat outside the Chandler-Bigsby Abbot House on Lowell street, which was opened to members of the tour.

Visitors from as far away as Kansas City, a state senator from Nebraska, and a resident just home from Taiwan, all turned out Sunday to climb aboard a bus tour of Andover's Revolution-era history.

The first of four such Sunday tours, sponsored by Andover's Bicentennial Commission, actually turned into a two-bus affair, with Selectmen Janet Lake and Milton Greenberg representing officialdom on the two-and-a-half-hour round of the town's prize 17th and 18th century buildings.

The modern-day coaches pulled away from the Historical Society's home on Main Street shortly after 2 o'clock, but the Amos Blanchard House and barn had been open to early-comers. The 12-room house was built in 1819 when Main Street was first cut through, they were told, and Amos Blanchard, who was involved in the Andover National Bank, the railroads, and both academies, paid $4100 for the house, barn, and farm which extended from today's post office to School Street.

Not many Andover homes were built before 1700, according to Donald B. Hayes, a vice-president of the Society, but many were built soon after, in the 17th century style.

Hayes dressed up for the occasion in a costume he described as "100 per cent authentic," down to its red, white and blue colors and tarnished shoe buckles.

His craftsman-style shirt in red and white check had bloused sleeves to allow more freedom of movement and, he noted, "the breeches have buttons everywhere."

The square brass buckles on his cobbler-type boots were unpolished, he said, because the farmers didn't have time to tend such things, what between taking care of the crops and the war at hand.

In fact, he added, their outfits were more musty and torn, though the modern militia (Hayes joined Danvers' because it got an earlier start than Andover's) plans to stay spruced up for the Bicentennial celebration.

Hayes says his stocking cap, the "liberty style," was as popular at the time as the more familiar tri-corns. Some had slogans 'stitched across the forehead, he said, and noted that they were used for their extra warmth.

Wearing a bright yellow dust cap and apron to match, over a colonial print dress, Mrs. Mel Jurgen served as tour guide in the lead bus, with Hayes in the second. The buses first skirted the Center for a look at the Deacon Isaac Abbot Tavern at 70 Elm Street.

The Tavern was built in the 1680's near the old stage road, and in 1789, George Washington stopped there for breakfast on his way from Haverhill to Lexington.

The story is told, Hayes said, that Priscilla Abbot mended the good General's gloves and he rewarded her with a kiss on the cheek.

Priscilla, the story goes, didn't wash it off for a week. The Tavern also became Andover's first post office in 1795.

Passing Memorial Hall Library on the way to historic Central Street, Hayes noted that it was the only war memorial he knew of that served an actual, year-round, living purpose.

Hayes described the Jonathan Swift House, 23 Central, as a "modified American colonial." It was built in 1795 by Jonathan Swift with an unusual "monitor roof," and now served as an apartment house.

Perhaps one of the town's best known landmarks, the Rose Cottage on the corner of Central and Chestnut, was owned by Squire John Kneeland in 1825, when he served Lagayette hot toddy in the south parlor.

Kneeland, a lawyer, merchant, and member of the Constitutional Congress, was actually the second owner, the house having been built in 1784 by Abner Abbot, a blacksmith. True to tradition, Abbot had a chestnut tree out front and hence, Hayes says, the name "Chestnut Street."

Another landmark, South Church, was built in 1861 after fire destroyed its predecessor. The Rev. Samuel Phillips, whose grandson founded the academy, was the first pastor in 1711, and served there for 60 years. Central Street was "very dangerous" in those early days, Hayes noted. In fact, Joseph Abbot was killed there by Indians and his son Timothy was taken captive as a small boy.

In fact, Central Street, which is now being considered as a historic district -- subject to a Town Meeting vote -- was something of an Abbot compound.

The house at 47 Central Street, built in 1792 by Samuel Abbot, a wealthy Boston importer, and copied from an English manor house, boasts two fireplace mantles from Paris.

The John Lovejoy Abbot House, 57 Central Street, was built in 1678 and was once attached to the Solomon Higgins House next door.

Hayes pointed out "Webster's Hollow" back behind Central Street, where Daniel Webster was reunited with the Whig Party. He was then Secretary of State, and that he chose Andover to make his address just goes to show, Hayes said, the importance of the town.

Deacon Daniel Poor was a prosperous farmer and a deacon of South Church, when he built his home at the corner of Central and Phillips Streets. Poor was active at Lexington and Concord and again at Bunker Hill, and his house is especially noted for Rufus Porter murals -- two downstairs, under wallpaper for some years now, and a restored one in an upstairs bedroom. Porter was commissioned by many of the local residents.

The familiar Benjamin Abbot House, south of the Horn Bridge on Andover Street, was built as a fort against Indian attacks, and was home to 10 generations of Abbots. It features "Indian wall" construction with a brick wall between the siding and the inside paneling or plaster, designed to keep arrows from coming through.

Benjamin Abbot, as Hayes told the story, was afflicted by an open sore on his side, a swollen foot, and sick cows, after he disagreed with Martha Allen Carrier over boundaries. Mrs. Carrier was later tried at the Salem Witch Trials, and after she died, Benjamin's strange afflictions were cured.

The Dascomb House, 125 Dascomb Road, once surrounded by tall pines and elms, was built in 1711 and Thomas Johnson paid $670 for the house, barn, 50 acres, and blacksmith shop. It was also once owned by a sea captain, who made it into a boarding house for summer visitors.

The Sunday tour continued around Osgood Street to the Abiel Upton House, stopped at the Chandler - Bigsby Abbot House on Lowell Street, and proceeded on to Phillips Academy.

Climbing aboard for the tour of "The Hill," in front of the "America House" on Main Street for the tour of "The Hill," were PA historians Bartlet Hayes and Jack Barrs.

The carillon concert welcomed the group outdoors once again to tour "Bulfinch Hall," one of three academy buildings attributed to the famous 19th century architect.

Don Hayes, in "authentic" colonial garb, is guide on one of the two buses on Sunday's historical tour.

The bright October day had turned to brisk when the tour ended up with cider and old-fashioned gingerbread on the Town Hall lawn.

Reservations for this Sunday's tour, and those on October 19 and 25, may still be made by purchasing $1.25 tickets at Thompsons, 77 Main Street, and the Liggett Rexall Drugs at the Shawshen Plaza. Manning the microphones this week will be Mrs. Jurgen and Mrs. Kay Noyes.

Special arrangements for groups or organizations may be made by contacting Mrs. Dorothy Sherrard.

Town Meeting At Its New England Best

If town meeting, as a form of true democracy in action is a tradition and attribute of the northeast region, then Andover's Monday night exercise in open forum government was New England town meeting at its best.

For instance, where, but at an open town meeting, can garbage collection be subjected to the effectiveness of Henry Kissinger's diplomatic efforts.

Or, a transplanted Floridian, given a voice in his government for probably the first time, captivate an audience with observations dealing with street acceptance.

It is impossible to write a script for a town meeting. If such could be captured by pen and film, it well could win Oscars or Emmys, for it is the spontaneity, the timing, not planned, yet on cue, that makes a town meeting an entertaining venture.

Monday night, with an agenda devoid of great controversy, there was more than a sufficient quorum on hand shortly after the appointed hour of 7:30, to allow the transaction of the evening's business.

For those who would criticize lobbying efforts at a higher legislative level, it must be noted that specific interests obviously had their representations in full force early and managed to retain them until the end of the session to insure completion of the warrant and finality of the action therein.

We would be less than candid if we did not observe that such groups as those interested in the acquisition of land for the library and interests favoring the rezoning of land for the Andover Companies, while not vocal, lent their presence and vote to the particular issues.

And, for those who would complain that town meeting serves only specific interest groups, let it be said, that no one prevents those opposed from mustering their own individual strengths on any issue.

The most somber of Shakespeare always had some relief, comic or otherwise, to break the pace, and town meeting seldom fails to provide such.

Monday night, a serious issue of whether the town should separate its garbage and trash collection, was debated and while Stanley Nabydoski, proponent of separation, won the hearts with his pitch, he lost the battle when the vote was taken.

Nabydoski gave a long treatise on garbage and its benefits through feeding pigs, which he raises in West Andover. The former contractor for picking up the town's garbage, alluded to the need for raising pigs through food waste rather than grain. He also noted the need for food in years to come and commented that Kissinger's diplomacy and detente with Russia could well be effected in years to come by how food is produced.

When moderator William Dalton asked Nabydoski to wind up his presentation, the speaker responded in what can only happen in a New England community session, "Okay, Billy, be done in a minute," and to the audience, "Gotta run this on home before Billy runs me out."

On another occasion, Moderator Dalton provided some humor by not consciously asking a voter if he was getting up to go to the microphone and the audience thought he was leading to a more personal question.

As the meeting neared an end, and a quorum was difficult to hold, Richard Califano of Farrwood Drive, who had moved here from Florida, took the microphone to question the manner of street acceptance.

No silver toned orator, Califano was eloquent enough with his questions, interspersed with appropriate levity to hold the crowd until the end.

There was one moment, we felt rather inappropriate.

After Town Clerk Elden R. Salter had made some comments on the contributions which the Andover Companies had made to the town, Chairman Milton Greenberg announced that he had informed the clerk the remarks were uncalled for.

We fail to see where the office of selectman provides the right to disenfranchise a person, or member of the town's official family from speaking before a town meeting, regardless of what the issue may be.

But for that one occasion, we would judge Monday night's performance of town meeting to have been an entertaining, democratic experience.

Some Commendations

We would like to extend some commendations this week to those in charge of producing "Art In The Park," as well as the historical bus tours of Andover this past weekend.

The bus tours, which continue for the next three Sundays, give a glimpse of Andover's historical significance and are the responsibility of the Bicentennial Committee.

Last Sunday's initial effort gave every evidence of a well-planned and entertaining afternoon for visitors and residents alike.

The Art In The Park presentation was the effort of eight months of planning and resulted in participation by artists from all over New England.

That the planning resulted in success was evidenced by the response, not only of participants but the general public.

It is no easy task to plan such an effort and have it run as smoothly as it did.

Co-ordinated by the Recreation / Community Schools Department, the event certainly gave every evidence that it should be repeated.

These two particular events also show what opportunities are available to home town folks to enjoy themselves right here in Andover.

Such things provide a rewarding experience to the residents, as well as to the committees who work long and hard to prepare for them.

Town House Topics

More Police?

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen informed the town meeting Monday night that one of the major considerations in next fiscal year's budget will be additions to the police force.

Greenberg said the matter would be a budget matter when planning for the year ahead, in response to some questions dealing with the purchase of a radar speed gun for the police department.

Later, the chairman said that additional police and possibly some consideration of added fire personnel would be a priority item, indicating that if there is a desire for more public safety personnel to adequately protect the town, then the voters will have the opportunity to vote on the matter.

Gets Plaque

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin was among the 18 members of the International City Managers Association, who was honored for having served 25 years in the profession.

Austin received a plaque in recognition of the years of service.

The plaques were presented at the annual convention held this year in Seattle, Washington, but Austin was unable to attend the ceremonies.

Decisions Decisions

The Honorable and Mrs. Lance Barrett were in Andover over the weekend and attended the Sunday morning service at the Andover Bible Chapel.

It so happened that the sermon on Sunday was given by ex-Selectman Robert A. Watters, who not knowing that the Mayor of Andover, England would be present had chosen as his subject "Decisions, Decisions, Decisions". An appropriate message from one public official to another?

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Kooks Worry CIA

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON -- The people who are responsible for the President's life are convinced that crazies, not conspirators, are behind the rash of assassinations that have plagued America for a decade.

Each headline assassination attempt has always produced reports of conspiracies. The two assaults on President Ford, for example, have brought rumors at the highest levels that Charles Manson and Lynette "Squeaky" Fromme were secretly allied with the Symbionese Liberation Army.

Invariably, such rumors cannot be pinned down. Similar stories circulated after the assassinations of Pres. John Kennedy, his brother Robert, and the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Conflicting evidence is often gathered, moreover, which lends credence to the theories that a cabal must be behind it all.

But top investigators whom we have consulted say that similar disparities frequently turn up after an accident or an event that happens quickly and is witnessed by several people. Each of the witnesses tells slightly different stories.

Experts who have examined the records closely tell us this is the case in all of the recent assassination attempts. But after reviewing all the evidence, the experts are convinced the assaults were acts of deranged individuals rather than secret plotters. It is the kooks who worry the Secret Service, not the conspirators.

We have obtained copies of the Secret Service's computerized list of potential assassins, for example. These documents reveal that the vast majority of threats against the President's life come from people who are mentally deranged.

Since the two attempts against Ford, the number of threatening letters and phone calls to the White House has tripled. Almost all of them, say our sources, come from obviously unbalanced people. "Every kook in the country has called," one insider told us.

As a result, the Secret Service has taken these steps to tighten security around the President:

— They have advised Ford to avoid plunging into crowds to "press the flesh," as he loves to do. The President has agreed to be as cautious as a glad-handing politician can be.

— They have asked for more money, and the President has approved a request for an additional $11 million. A big chunk of it will be spent to reinforce the White House gates, which were crashed last December by a man dressed like an Arab and wired with what appeared to be explosives. "The next time a nut tries to plow through those gates," one source told us, "his car will look like an accordion."

— They have called in agents from field offices around the country to beef up the President's protective detail. They are also training 500 men from other federal law enforcement agencies to protect candidates in next year's elections.

Bloody Homecoming: A number of Cambodian refugees at Camp Pendleton, Calif., have petitioned the United States government for permission to return to their homeland. They might not be so eager to go back if they knew what has happened to a number of their countrymen who returned.

According to military intelligence reports, many of them have been summarily executed. Eighty-seven Cambodian military men, for example, recently returned from Thailand. They were effusively greeted at the border and hustled down the road out of sight. "You are no longer Cambodians," they were told. "You are imperialists." They were then killed on the spot.

Another 247 Cambodian officers and non-commissioned officers were executed on an abandoned farm inside Cambodia, according to the intelligence reports. And several hundred members of another military unit met with similar fates.

Timber Limbers Up: Five years ago, Congress beat down an intensive bid by the timber industry for permission to "clear-cut" huge sections of the national forests. Clear-cutting is a wasteful method of harvesting timber. Vast acres of land are completely cut down, leaving behind only the bare earth and piles of rubbish.

The timber lobby spent thousands of dollars in expenses and campaign contributions but failed to get the clear-cutting law passed. They had to settle for much less than they wanted.

Recently, a federal court ruling curtailed clear-cutting even more. Now, according to our sources, the timber lobby is gearing up for another multi-million-dollar assault on Congress. The industry wants a law to get them around the court rulings. They also want permission to strip even larger portions of the national forests.

Ford VS. Farmers: President Ford is in trouble down on the farm. His embargo of grain sales to the Soviets, it seems, have made many rural voters angry.

At least that's the word the President recently received at a private White House meeting. Some farm state Republican senators told him bluntly that the grain embargo was costing him politically.

Ford cut off the grain shipments because he felt they might push up prices in the United States.

But the decision cuts into farm income. And now, it turns out, the record crops this year make large grain sales possible without causing American prices to go much higher.

Ford will probably lift the embargo, but it may come too late to help him with the farm vote.

Minutemen To Present Program For D.A.R.

The first meeting of the Priscilla Abbot Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution in this Bicentennial year, will be held Oct. 18 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Thomas Nixon, 23 Vine St., Andover.

The program will be a colorful presentation by members of the Lexington Minutemen, originally the militia of that town, founded in 1773 but receiving their baptism of fire on April 19, 1775 when they stood on the Lexington Green and faced the crack troops of the British Army, ending with seven men dead, and beginning the War of Independence.

In this Bicentennial year especially, new members are welcomed. Many known prospective members have been contacted, but all others are urged to attend. Please telephone Mrs.

Edward Thompson for further information. Mrs. Nelson Bishop, State Chairman of Lineage Research, will be there to aid any prospective members.

Mrs. Herbert Witzgall will give a report of plans for the year that were presented at the recent Fall State Conference, held at Hillside School, Marlborough. This school is one of seven schools sponsored by the DAR, nationally, donating money for buildings and scholarships.

Four Seasons Club Hears Hub Program

The Four Seasons Garden Club held their October meeting this morning at the home of Mrs. Ariel George.

Mrs. George described the "Hub Box Project," a program sponsored by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society to give Boston public school children a greater appreciation of plants, conservation and environment.

Mrs. Peter Lewis and Mrs. Roland West were co-hostesses.

Consumer Topic For AAUW

"You, the Consumer" is the topic to be presented and discussed at the October meeting of the Andover - Georgetown branch of the American Association of University Women. The general public is cordially invited to attend the meeting which will be held on Thursday, Oct. 16, at Gildea Hall, Merrimack College, North Andover.

Assistant Attorney General Susan Sloane, of the Consumer Protection Division of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office, will lead the discussion on Consumer law and how it can help you. Learn about rights as a consumer and bring questions on the subject matter.

For further information concerning this meeting, contact Mrs. Frank Belcastro of Andover or Mrs. Robert Gatti of Lowell.

Fiedler, Pops To Return To Merrimack

27

Arthur Fiedler and 70 members of the Boston Pops Orchestra return to Merrimack College for their third time at the North Andover college's S. Peter Volpe Physical Education Center on Friday evening, Nov. 7 at 8 p.m.

Sponsored by the Ladies of Merrimack, Fiedler's concert will feature musical fare ranging from the light classics to show tunes, concertos to current popular hits. Fiedler, with his universal appeal to the musical tastes of everyone, has attracted over 9,000 area residents and students to his past two performances at Merrimack.

The recipient of an honorary Doctor of Music degree from Merrimack in 1969, Fiedler inaugurated the first major community event in Merrimack's new Physical Education Center in November, 1972. His first Pops Concert at Merrimack was also one in a series of special observances which highlighted the college's 25th Anniversary. He came back to the North Andover campus by the popular demand of students and area residents for his second concert in May, 1974.

Fiedler has remarked that he has been pleased by the overall acoustics of Merrimack's Physical Education Center as well as by the enthusiastic response of his audience during his previous two concerts.

"The enthusiasm that he and his music generate must be infectious as we have already sold 1573 tickets in just the first two weeks," said Concert Co-chairman Mrs. Marilyn McCarthy of North Andover.

Mrs. McCarthy, who is assisted by Concert Co-chairman, Mrs. William Patterson of North Andover, and Ladies of Merrimack President, Mrs. Arthur McGovern of Andover, stated that there will be a reception in honor of Arthur Fiedler for benefactors, sponsors, and patrons following the concert.

Reserved tickets for the November 7 concert are $10, while general admission tickets are $6. Tickets are currently on sale at three locations on the Merrimack College campus: the McQuade Library, the Alumni Office in Austin Hall, and the Continuing Education Division Office in O'Reilly Hall. Tickets will not be sold at the door on the evening of the concert.

For more information on the Arthur Fiedler Concert, contact Merrimack College.

Clifford W. Falby

Clifford W. Falby, executive director of the New England Home for Little Wanderers will be a special guest when the Greater Lawrence Chapter of Friends of the Home celebrates the 10th anniversary of its founding on Oct. 16 at the North Andover Country Club. A social hour will commence at 12 and lunch will be served at 1.

Mrs. Howard Cobin will present a history of the Greater Lawrence Chapter and review its contributions to the Home. These contributions include establishment of a library at Everett House, a residence for teenaged girls; creation of a program of arts and crafts as hobbies; assistance to an "adopted" daughter to complete her college education and maintenance of an after-care apartment in Boston. During the past 10 years, the Chapter has donated over $20,000 to New England Home for enrichments projects.

To mark the anniversary, the Chapter will establish a continuing memorial in the name of

LaLeche Lg To Meet Wednesday

LaLeche League of Greater Lawrence will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, October 15, 1975 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Judy Guerard, 9 Virginia Road, Andover, Mass.

The subject of this meeting will be "The Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties." A discussion will be followed by refreshments.

All interested area residents are invited to attend. Mothers with babies are encouraged to bring them.

Making Apple A Day An Appealing Project

Observing A Tasty Morsel

Last week was "Apple Week" in the Doherty School second grade.

Tuesday, the entire class toured Applecrest Farm on Route 88, Hampton Falls, N.H., and the children were told about the pollinating process and saw what happens to the apples "from tree to mouth."

They were also given a taste of home-made apple cider, and at the end of the tour, each child picked a bag of apples to take home.

Prior to their trip, the

Mrs. Annetta Freedman obviously enjoys a taste of apple pie prepared by the Doherty School youngsters this past week. The pupils visited an apple orchard and then prepared the apple treat, with the assistance of teachers and mothers. Making sure everything is done right, from left, Kathy Finerty, Susan Oskar, Katrina Smith and Donna Leith.

youngsters saw a film, "About Apples," obtained by Doherty Media Specialist, Mrs. Joan Robinson. It provided a realistic picture of life on an apple farm.

Under the direction of Doherty second grade teachers Mrs. Bonnie Guerin, Mrs. Delores Pelc and Miss Ann Marie Maida, and about 15 mothers, each student also prepared an individual - sized apple pie. The mothers took them home, baked them, and brought them back to the youngsters the following day.

The children presented apple pies to Dr. Kenneth Seifert, superintendent of schools; Mrs. Annetta Freedman, director of media services; Mrs. Lois Haslam, Doherty principal; Mrs. Dorothy Bailey, school secretary, and Mrs. Judy Griffin, teacher aid.

Mrs. Freedman in turn presented each second grader with a button which read,

"Champs - Apple Pie Makers."

The second graders took their pies home Thursday to share with their families.

Mothers who helped with the project included Mrs. Francis Dion; Mrs. John Sweeney; Mrs. James Carpentier; Mrs. Alexander Torok; Mrs. David Murphy; Mrs. James Olson; Mrs. Stephen Smith; Mrs. Michael Hughes; Mrs. James Bright; Mrs. David Robinson; Mrs. Michael Giammusso; Mrs. Jean B. The morning meeting will be held at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Jerome Arnold, 6 Brady Loop, and the evening meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Alfred Eckman, 27 Sgamore Drive. The members will be designing and decorating their own flower pots. Hostesses for the month are Chairman, Mrs. John Fuchs and her committee, Mrs. Warren Sideri, Mrs. Jerome Arnold and Mrs. Robert Drake.

Recipes from the club's new cookbook, as well as other recipes, will be shared with the public at a Bake Sale to be held at DeMoulas Market in the Shawsheen Plaza Shopping Center on Oct. 18. Proceeds from this project will be used for Civic Beautification and Garden Therapy.

Planning Boutique

Bicentennial Boutique Planned

The Shawsheen Village Womans Club will open the 1975-76 season with the meeting of Oct. 13 at the Hillview Country Club.

The meeting will be presided over by President Mrs. Frank Schiller. The elected officers for the coming year are First Vice President Mrs. Edward Andrew, Second Vice President Mrs. U.S. Berger, Recording Secretary Mrs. Robert C. Stemke, Corresponding Secretary Mrs. Robert J. Pelrine, Treasurer Mrs. Walter C. Caswell. Directors and Mrs. Irwin Welber, Mrs. John Young, Mrs. Harold Azarian and Mrs. Richard A. Smith.

The business meeting will be followed by a Fashion Show.

On Oct. 25 at the West Parish Church will be the "Bicentennial Boutique." It will be a spectacular event!

In November we will have Bruce Schwoegler, Meteorologist from WBZ-TV as a guest speaker for Men's or Friend's Night. Dr. Mildred F. Jefferson will be guest speaker at "American Home Day" in January. She will speak on "The Rights and Roles of Modern Women."

In February we will be taking a ride down memory lane with Mel Simons "Golden Days of Radio." Howard De Bruyn will present us with a musical monologue of "Flower Drum Song" in March.

In keeping with the Bicentennial Celebration the women are invited on an Historical Tour of Newport, Rhode Island for April.

May will bring our annual meeting and banquet at the Hillview Country Club with our own Drama Department presenting the program.

Committee chairmen for the year include Mrs. Edward Andrew and Mrs. Joseph Tassinari, program; Mrs. U.S. Berger, ways and means; Mrs. Harold Azarian, membership; Mrs. Richard A. Smith, telephone; Mrs. Irwin Welber, refreshments; Mrs. John Young and Mrs. Douglas J. Hillman, flowers; Mrs. George Lybrand, American Heritage and Mrs. Harry E. Dickson, bicentennial commemorative plates; Mrs. George E. Gliss, chaplain; Mrs. Joseph Tassinari, book review.

Mrs. Henry J. Corcoran, community improvement; Mrs. Suren Loosigian, house; Mrs. Frank B. Stevenson, legislation; Mrs. William J. Boucher, music; Mrs. Edward Palmieri, nominating; Mrs. John C. Souter, publicity; Mrs. Paul H. Bedrosian and Mrs. Robert E. McDonald, scholarship; Mrs. A. Morris Campbell and Mrs. Gordon B. Lauger, veterans services; Mrs. John Bangert, volunteer services; Mrs. Donald Richmond and Mrs. Leroy W. Hoffman, creative arts; Mrs. Robert J. Pelrine, drama; Mrs. Julien Vens, Jr., ten-pin bowling; Mrs. Philip Winters, tennis and Mrs. John Tiernan, couples social group.

Andona Ball Set For Oct. 24

The Andona Society will hold its annual ball on Friday, Oct. 24 at the Sheraton Rolling Green Inn.

Mrs. Richard Bartle and Mrs. Robert Jurgen, co-chairpersons for the gala event, have announced that a champagne cocktail party will be held from 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. to the music of the popular T.H. Hand and Company Band.

Assisting in plans for the evening are Mrs. Peter Lewis and Mrs. Michael Fosko, door and invitations; Mrs. Vito Caiati and Mrs. Wilfred Schwarz, refreshments; Mrs. Gerald Reynolds, decorations; Mrs. Richard Reichter, finance; and Mrs. Raymond Orrell, publicity.

The public is welcome to attend, and reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Michael Fosko, 48 Royal Crest Drive, North Andover.

Proceeds from the dance are used to assist the youth of Andover.

Fashion Show Is Planned

The Merrimack Valley Chapter - March of Dimes, will host a Men's and Women's Fashion Show and Dance on Saturday, Oct. 18, at the Burlington Holiday Inn, starting at 8 p.m. Fashions will be presented by Deerskin Trading Post, moderated by Jean Fisette, noted commentator.

Suede and leather fashions, will be highlighted for this event, and modeled by the Honorable Armand LeMay, Mayor of Lowell, Mrs. Robert Desmond, Lowell, Mrs. Tom Dougherty of Chelmsford, Mr. and Mrs. James Taft and Mrs. Robert Kelley of Lawrence, Lou Patracone of Andover, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dineen of North Andover, and Mrs. Patrick Costa, Methuen.

After the hour-long show, music will be provided by the Jim Young Trio for dancing.

Funds raised by the March of Dimes will benefit the work of this voluntary Health Organization. The March of Dimes has dedicated itself to insuring each newborn a healthy birthright.

PERMASTYL

BY

Roffler

The Newest Men's Hair Style

Today's man is style-conscious... but being "in" is not as important as being an individual.

That's why fuller hair is becoming so popular in men's hair styling; wave is "in", but its look is unique in each man's hair.

Now, even men with straight hair can wear the wavy look. How? With PERMASTYL, the new body wave for men's hair by Roffler Industries, always first with innovations in men's hair styling.

The PERMASTYL treatment is given only by trained Roffler Stylists who know how to give your hair just the amount of wave you want.

PERMASTYL is quick and easy, and you'll be proud of the results. Get your PERMASTYL at:

30 Lesley Alumni Plan Dinner In Andover

Lesley College alumni in the Merrimack Valley region are invited to a get-together at the Lanam Club, Main St., Route 28, Andover, on Thursday, Oct. 16. Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:30 p.m. Alumni may bring guests for the evening; cost is $8.50.

Reservations are being taken by Nancy Mellen Meehan, 14 Barasford Road, Lowell.

Lesley College prepares 730 undergraduate women to be highly qualified elementary school teachers. In addition, students may specialize in the teaching of reading, day care, early childhood education, teaching the mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed, urban education and working with children in the community. At the coeducational graduate level, nearly 2000 students comprise a record enrollment. These students may choose to study math, open education, learning disabilities, arts in education and therapy, women in administrative roles and counselor education.

CDA To Have Mystery Ride

Court St. Monica, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold a mystery ride Thursday, Oct. 16, leaving St. Augustine's School at 7:15 p.m.

At the recent style show held by the C.D.A., the following were presented prizes: Mrs. Ann Walsh, Ann Lynch, Joan Hogan, Winifred Kelley, Madeline Kinnear, Estelle Dumont, Ida Grover, Sue DeQuatro, Mary Bolduc, Mary Russell, Peg Orlando, Mildred Fowler, Ann Marie Gallant, Mary O'Neil, Margaret Downs, Helen Collins, Jane Burke, Margaret Massaro, Adelaide Killilea, Irene Driscoll and Louise Ponti.

Plan Yard Sale

Family Kindergarten, 33 Johnson Street, North Andover will hold a yard sale at the school at 10 o'clock, Saturday morning, Oct. 11. There will be glassware, toys, games, books and knickknacks on sale.

The proceeds from the sale will go towards the purchase of indoor nursery school equipment.

Professional Antique Restoration - By Madison Hill

Would you believe that this antique sofa pictured here was once an unrecognizable piece, found like discarded rubbish in a barn in the Lexington-Concord historic area of the state? It has been completely restored by the craftsmen at Madison Hill Upholstering, 75 Manchester Street, Lawrence (in the Arlington Mills).

These experienced craftsmen are able to restore antique pieces authentically, with the same care and skill of the original artisans. They have the background to recognize the potential value of antique pieces and the know-how to restore them, so that you can use them, enjoy their beauty as conversation pieces in your home, and yet have an investment (or collateral if you will) that is appreciating all the time.

Antique furniture is valued on a par with diamonds by some antique dealers. It is an investment that you can use and enjoy as a thing of beauty in your home while every day it is increasing in value. However, careful, professional restoration is the secret to the beauty and value of your investment.

John Comasso, owner of Madison Hill, invited you to call him at 686-7264 if you have any question about the possibility of restoring old pieces that may appear worthless to you in their present condition. He is a specialist in this field and can rebuild and restore antique furniture authentically in the many of the old artisans who hand-crafted their pieces in a labor of love.

Madison Hill does the complete job - refinish wood, strengthen if necessary, and reupholster in fabric of your choice. Call Madison Hill or better yet, visit them and see the miracles they work with antique furniture at 75 Manchester Street in Lawrence.

Women's Activities Scheduled

A wide array of offerings for women featured the Fall Term program of the Andover-North Andover YMCA. Most of the programs are already underway but additional participants will be welcomed except in a few activities.

Open to Full Privilege YMCA women members are many physical fitness, sports, and active recreation classes, many of which may be related to recreational swims in the new YMCA pool. Morning or evening classes are scheduled in slimnastics, recreational gym, volleyball, basketball (starts Nov. 4), Yoga, Figure Control, Badminton and jogging, and adult offerings include fitness, table tennis, badminton and volleyball and water polo. Swimming instruction on any level is offered, also: swimnastics, synchronized swimming and Basic Rescue and Water Safety.

Open to both Full Privilege members and other women of the community are: Folk Dancing, tennis instruction or informal play, paddle tennis, morning bicycle jaunts, hiking group, climbing group, ice skating, horseback riding and candlepin bowling. Couples may enroll for ballroom dancing.

Some twenty-six other handicraft and art courses are also offered by the YMCA in the Fall Term program. Prior registration may be accomplished at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

Atty. O'Brien would not accept the case, thus the selectmen and town manager have been discussing the matter with Chairman Francis Griggs of the school committee.

Town Counsel Daniels did not represent the trio in a case involving secret session brought by former Committeeman William L. Lane. Atty. William Murphy of Lynn was named special counsel for that case.

While not firm decision have been made, it is believed that the selectmen conclude that the trio are entitled to counsel, being elected municipal officials at the time the decision which led to the court case was made.

Thus, they will present to the school board the name of an attorney, probably not from this area, for acceptance. Should the three defendants choose not to accept the offer, it is believed there will be no further action by the town's administration to assist them.

A new insurance program which took effect this past year, protects municipal officials from suits such as this, but the effective date is believed not to be within the time scope to be applicable to the particular case.

Committeeman Olesen has stated that he will retain personal counsel whatever happens.

There is another matter to be considered, although probably some time off, considering the element of time in court proceedings.

Should the court find in favor of the plaintiff, who would be responsible for payment of the damages?

If such a finding is handed down, and the town is responsible for payment, then, reportedly, it would require a town meeting vote to appropriate the funds.

Town House Topics

The Barretts are staying with relatives in Plaistow, N.H. and will be returning to Andover on October 15 for appropriate official recognition by the Selectmen and other civic organizations.

Jurors

Four residents were drawn for jury duty by the selectmen at Tuesday night's meeting. Drawn were Jess Chernak, 13 Forbes Lane, Kenneth Marshall, 28 Chandler Road, Gladys M. Barraclough, 16 Arcadia Road and Marjorie Lundgren, 18 Elm St.

Family Commendation

Town meeting Monday night gave appreciative applause to Selectman George E. Heseltine and Norma Gammon, chairman of the town's Bicentennial Committee.

Heseltine, after leading the Salute to the Flag, was accorded applause when Moderator William Dalton noted that the selectman was not seeking re-election next Spring.

Mrs. Gammon was honored by the voters for the work being carried out by the Bicentennial group which was singled out by Dalton for their noteworthy accomplishments to date and the plans for the observance in the months ahead.

What some may not have realized is that Heseltine and Mrs. Gammon are brother and sister.

Elm Street Plans Due

Reconstruction of Elm Street, from Washington Avenue to the North Andover line will be the subject of a public hearing on Oct. 21. The hearing is to afford abutters an opportunity to review the plans for improvement of the roadway prior to it being turned over to the town. It is currently a state highway. The hearing is set for 7:30 p.m. in the conference room of town hall.

WANTED

Elegant 4 bedroom, 2½ bath Colonial with large fireplace family room off the kitchen. Must have full basement with outside entrance and be on town sewerage. Buyer will pay up to $85,000.

Tutoring Program Available

Boys and girls of Andover and North Andover may obtain help in any study areas, where such help is needed, in a program offered by the Andover - North Andover YMCA for youth in grades 1-12. YMCA Full Privilege Membership is not required. Enrollment is limited and prior registration is required at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St., Andover. The student brings books and other study materials as advised by the school teacher.

The tutoring is done at Phillips Academy by interested academy students under the leadership of tutoring coordinator Brian Kenney. The group meets each Wednesday, 4:15-5:15 p.m. The Fall Term program is already under way but additional pupils will be welcomed. It is anticipated that the service will be available also during the Winter and Spring terms of YMCA programs.

At Mt. Ida

Ellen Wilde of Andover has enrolled in the Child Study Program at Mt. Ida Junior College in Newton. Ellen is a graduate of Andover High School.

She plans to earn her A.A. degree at Mt. Ida. Now a freshman, she is among nearly 700 students; the college's highest enrollment in its history.

Mystery Ride Planned By K. C. Auxiliary

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Knights of Columbus Council 3819, North Andover anxiously await the "Mystery Ride" to be held on Tuesday Night, Oct. 14 at 6:30 p.m. All members are invited to bring a friend.

After arrival at the unknown destination those attending will find a delicious buffet ready for them to enjoy.

Transportation will be provided.

The deadline for reservations is October 10, and they may be made by calling Eileen Marget at 475-0920 or Noreen Frizelle at 683-9068.

Sullivan To Address PTO

BLUEBERRY HILL

It is with excitement that we announce the beginning of construction of homes at Blueberry Hill off Holt Road in the Bancroft School area.

If you are one of those who indicated interest earlier, or are now considering building a new home that will be out of the ordinary, we will be happy to discuss design plans with you.

Our service includes careful development of the land, skillful architectural design and quality construction. It all adds up to a home that will be very personally your own. Choice lots are now available for early selection. Call us or visit our office for further information.

CBD Survey Due

Andover's Central Business District would remain the same as it is, with public transportation a major priority for consideration of municipal improvements.

This is the substance of the Central Business District Survey taken with the state census earlier this year. The formal report on the findings as a result of the questionnaire which had a response from about two-thirds of the residents, will be released early next week.

The report will indicate no support for rezoning for commercial areas, large or small, for outlying areas of the town. There is likewise little support for altering traffic patterns in the downtown area or public sponsorship of parking for the business area, according to preliminary report indications.

It is expected the report will be presented and discussed by several Andover groups in assisting the planning board and selectmen in making some determinations with regard to downtown Andover.

First public presentation is due at the fall meeting of the Andover Center Merchants next Wednesday night at Valle's Steak House.

Town Meeting

acquire the property may never be offered again and that the town should seize the opportunity.

The chairman explained that while there are no immediate plans for new construction at the library, the acquisition would provide the necessary land.

Adequate parking facilities, not now available would be provided through the new property which extends from Essex to Pearson street.

As for the building, there are a number of uses possible, including its utilization by the state as a regional library center and use by Memorial Hall for storage and other facilities.

In reference to possible use by other town agencies, (additional space for the senior citizens had been suggested) Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen said the property was being acquired specifically for library purposes.

It was explained to the meeting that the town was obtaining the property at a bargain rate. While it was offered at $85,000 a few years ago, improvements to the building alone had increased the cost of the total parcel to in excess of $200,000.

Selectman Allyn F. French offered an amendment which would have delayed action on the matter until the annual town meeting next Spring.

French felt that the matter was not of an emergency nature and the further negotiation may provide a lower cost to the town.

The selectmen said that while he was not opposed to money articles being presented to the October town meeting, he felt this was not of an emergency nature and could wait until Spring.

He was joined by School Committee Chairman Dr. Francis Griggs, who noted that the funds being applied to the property purchase were not any windfall, but the remainder of accounts provided for new school construction, such as Bancroft, West and South. Griggs warned that the town faces some overcrowding at the secondary level and may be in need of additional classroom space.

The French amendment was defeated and the article approved overwhelmingly on a standing vote.

The Andover Companies, which had also sought zoning approval at an earlier town meeting, also was accorded a substantial margin of approval.

Atty. Richard G. Asoian presented the case for the insurance firm, noting the dangers of North Main street and the general Shawsheen Square area as principal reasons for removing the cars from the street.

Asoian explained that the company had provided the town with covenants to guarantee that safe access and egress from the lot would be maintained as well as landscaping.

Due to Atty. Asoian being associated in the law firm with Moderator William Dalton, the latter appointed Frederick Fitzgerald as acting moderator for the particular issue.

Opposition to the proposal was presented by Shawsheen abutters, who asked for time to consider the development of Shawsheen.

Stanley Saba, a Lovejoy Road

resident and member of the planning board, offered opposition, commenting that it appeared to be strip zoning. He also said that a covenant means nothing, that it could be dropped, and also that if the company continued to experience growth, the town would be asked to approve expansion plans for the building.

Approval of the rezoning came on a standing vote of 413-64.

Stanley Nabydoski, the town's former garbage contractor, gave a discourse on inflation and how best to fight it by affording him the opportunity to feed his pigs with food waste, rather than grain.

Nabydoski also commented on such things as the effect of grain on increasing cholesterol levels of the ultimate food products from hogs. He said he felt the issue was one of providing food and easing the world hunger problems.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin informed the meeting there were no funds to provide the separate service, if approval and also the town had against a local disposal site for refuse on three occasions.

The Manager indicated that a separate contract for garbage contract could run as much as $90,000. The present refuse pickup contractor now picks up the combined trash and garbage.

Following some additional discussion, the Nabydoski proposal was defeated.

The police department was provided with a radar speed gun over the token objection of the Finance Committee. FinCom Chairman Charles Wesson told the meeting the equipment was not considered to be of an emergency nature and could wait until Spring.

Austin explained that with a new car provided by the state for highway safety, the equipment was needed now.

When it was suggested that thefts and vandalism were more important considerations, some residents expressed the feeling that curbing of speeders to protect children was equally important and the equipment was approved for purchase at a cost of $950, a part of a total $9,250 appropriation for police equipment.

The $168,000 bond issue for improvements to the water distribution system and planning was approved.
